

February 2026

the VINE

Dear Grand Avenue Church Family and Friends,

Well it's February, the month squarely in the middle of Christmas and Easter. This cold, dark month is one that most people just struggle through, remembering the recent holidays and looking forward to Easter and the warmer spring months to come. At first glance there isn't much memorable about February. It is a month that you just keep your head down and get through. However, from a Christian perspective I think this is what makes this month so valuable for us in our spiritual journey. You see this month is very reminiscent of the everyday mundane monotony life can sometimes become. Just doing what is in front of you and consciously or subconsciously wondering why. How is anything meaningful? Amazingly, the answer is the Christian Season that begins this February. This season is of course, Lent.

Lent is a season of sacrifice intended to re-centering our lives on God. A period in which we seek to identify that which is superficial and realign our lives with the deeper significance of God's truth. This mindful re-centering has the power to not only illuminate the dark month of February but also the dark months of our lives. If we examine this we can see the truth that the things in our lives only possess true value when they are connected to the permanence of God's Kingdom. That said, this realization should empower us to embark on a Lenten season that seeks to create God-centered mindfulness in all the circumstances of our lives. This paradigm shift is then intended to continue beyond the Lenten season to the rest of the year and be the governing force in our lives moving forward.

The realization that a life not centered on God is not a life at all is encapsulated by King Solomon's existential crisis in the Book of Ecclesiastes where he concludes that God is all that can matter in this life.

Ecclesiastes 12:13, "The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man."

The implications of Solomon's struggle is that those who truly contemplate the nature of their existence can only validate it with God as the necessary center.

So in this cold, dark time of year, let us re-center ourselves on the light of God's revealed truth. Let each of us embark on bringing our lives to life by living for a purpose that knows no lifespan. A purpose that seeks to love God first in this world. In serving this purpose we are brought to life and become His instrument of light in His creation. This is the truth and purpose of our existence.

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven" (Matthew 5:16).

- Our love for others is our greatest work.

Your Brother in Christ, Pastor Vince

Six Week Lenten Study Group

Wednesday's from 11:00 am - 12:00 pm
Feb 25th through April 1st

We will be studying the book “An Unlikely Lent: Extraordinary People of the Easter Story” by Rachel Billups. The crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus are at the heart of the story of Easter. But the resurrection was not witnessed in isolation; it unfolded before a crowd. What might the stories of those women and men teach us today? How will they help us step into the story of Easter?

“This beautifully written Lenten resource invites reader to encounter Scripture through the lives of unlikely biblical figures reminding us of God’s irresistible grace.. With fresh insight, Rachel Billups lifts up people on the margins to show us how their stories speak to our own places of struggle and hope. This is a fresh invitation to an old journey drawing us deeper into God’s transforming love”. - Tom Berlin

Books are $16 each and will be available on the counter in the narthex on Feb 3rd.

THANK YOU NOTES

Our Craft Booth at Port Artisan Market, started by Margaret and Merton Lueptow many years ago, is now closed. Thanks to Cathy and Dave Guse, Jeff Killey, Rama, Sue, Lin, and Mary Kae, all Booth items and fixtures have been returned, donated, recycled, saved for the summer plant sale, or ... placed in the Fellowship Hall for anyone to buy (Check it out!).

We are so grateful for the support of all of you at Grand Ave. You created interesting items, donated wonderful things, and shopped at the downtown booth. We owe a HUGE THANK YOU to our artists and crafters Bonnie Pachner, Kay Hamann, Margaret Lueptow, Rob Schafman, Gus Geib, and Denise Wanninger, --- and many more of you who quietly left donations of puzzles, books, and other items to sell in the church library. We'd especially like to thank Joan, our ADRC gal and best customer, who found many goodies to take home! Thank you, Joan!

We could not have closed down our booth, without the HUGE help of the Guses who bagged up many, many books and brought them to the Washington County jail and thrift stores for continued reading. We owe TONS OF GRATITUDE to Jeff Killey and Rama, who loaded up Jeff's truck to make trips to St. Vinnies as well as the recycling center! Also, Thank You to Ernie and Laurie Commons who have taken many of our collectibles to auction for the church.

Last, but never least, Stacy continually made signs for the store, for the closing, coupons for Family Promise, listed and continues to list our items for sale online --- and let us interrupt her work many times to pick her brain! THANK YOU, STACY!!!

Cathy and I would like to thank you for your very generous monetary gift. I appreciate so much your well wishes that Cathy passes on to me as I continue my interim assignment. It's this spirit of love and support that continues to keep me trusting in the value of being part of a community where we can "weep when one another weeps and rejoice when one another rejoices". God bless you all! – Dave & Cathy Guse

Dear Grand Avenue Church Family,
Thank you so very much for the kind Christmas card and generous gift.
I love working in the office and helping everyone carry out God's work.
Thanks again for thinking of me! Blessings, Stacy Peters

January 26, 2026

Grace and peace to you in the name of Jesus Christ.

In recent days, events in Minnesota and beyond have caused deep grief, concern, and alarm across our connection. The use of lethal force in public spaces, the detention of naturalized citizens, members of our indigenous communities, children, documented and undocumented immigrants, and the treatment of other vulnerable persons have weighed heavily on the hearts of many in our church. These actions have unsettled communities, strained trust, and intensified fear among those already living at the margins.

Scripture reminds us that “when one part of the body suffers, we all suffer with them (I Corinthians 12:26). As a Connectional church, we are reminded that we are one body that cares for and needs each other. The whole body is suffering, right now, today! The violence being perpetrated on our streets, the loss of safety, and the inhumane treatment of God’s children, are hurting us all. We cannot stay silent in the face of the evils of our day.

The United Methodist Church deplores the use of violence, fear, separation, and intimidation as a means of creating social order. Such means do not build beloved community. We reaffirm our longstanding commitment to the sacred worth of every person and to the way of peace taught and embodied by Jesus. We stand against the separation of children from their families. We detest the inhumane, evil actions that are perpetuated by governmental authorities.

Our Social Principles are clear: “We reject governmental use of threats, extortion, unlawful detentions, extrajudicial killings, and other forms of coercion to silence political opponents and those objecting to unlawful or immoral government policies and practices.” They further affirm that the church has both the right and the responsibility to educate and equip its members to be advocates for justice in the wider world (¶163D).

This is a moment that calls for prayerful courage to speak against actions that are bringing harm to our neighbors. This is our time to have an effectual faith that stands with those who are suffering. This is our faithful response to our baptismal vow that summons us into what is required of us “to act justly, love mercy and walk humbly with our God” (Micah 6:8). We must continue to work for justice to help heal the brokenness in our communities and in the world.

We ask you to pray for peace and for justice. And we ask that we work together with our communities so that we can create a world where the sword is turned into plowshares, and the lion lays down with the lamb. May we be faithful disciples of Jesus Christ, who empowered by the Holy Spirit, do our part to bring comfort, just practices, and healing for all God’s suffering people.

In Christ’s peace,

United Methodist Corner

I have been reflecting lately about the future of the church, in part, because of the current state of the churches where I am serving as an interim pastor. The prophet Isaiah wrote to the Israelites who were in exile in Babylon. The message was also meant for those left behind who saw their sacred Temple and city in ruins, not unlike the pictures our nation saw after 9/11. Isaiah wrote, “Do not remember the former things or consider the things of old. I am about to do a new thing; now it springs forth; do you not perceive it? I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert” (Is. 43:19-20).

Those former things included what Israel would refer to as their glory days; the day when King David ruled over them as a monarchy. Now those days are behind them. Some even questioned whether God may have permanently punished them and exiled them for their transgressions.

I believe that God is telling us as the church not to remember the former things like when Sunday schools were packed with children and pews were packed with worshipers. All was not well back then despite the numbers. We have seen a tremendous shift in our society over the past 40 years in its perception of the church. An ever-growing number are questioning the relevance of the church. How do we understand the words of our Lord saying to us, “I am about to do a new thing; now it springs forth; do you not perceive it?”

John Wesley’ view of the church was that it is a was a Holy Spirit-led community of believers. He saw the church as less defined by structure (e.g. rules and committees) and more shaped by a shared and active pursuit of holiness and love. Holiness for Wesley was both personal (practices of piety and spiritual growth) and social holiness which includes works of mercy and justice. He also believed in ecumenism. He understood the catholic (universal) church to the entire body of believers in which the local church congregations being “branches” of this larger body. I remember in my former days singing with the children, “I am the church! You are the church! We are the church together! All who follow Jesus all around the world! Yes, we’re the church together.”

I believe God’s promise of “doing something new” includes the future of the church, which Jesus initiated and the Holy Spirit has empowered over the past 2,000 years. Perhaps we need to consider what former things need not be remembered and to be more open to the movement of the Holy Spirit who will lead us towards the day when Jesus’ prayer will be answered, “May they all be one.”

In Christ’s Love, Dave
